will attend as can consistently with the interest they may have on their hands at that time. We shall have a good assortment of all our publications at the meeting. The meeting has been appointed somewhat later than usual, on account of the General Conference coming earlier, and we thought best to hold our State meeting after the Conference, so that we could more successfully carry out the plans suggested. We think this is an important point. We shall expect to see a good many of our brethren and sisters at this meeting. Plans will be made for our winter's work, and we want to see a large number of our people there.

The delegates to the General Conference from Iowa are A. R. Henry, E. W. Farnsworth, H. Nicola, C. A. Washburn.

SKETCHES FROM THE LIFE OF PAUL.

BY MRS. E. G. WHITE.

THIS is the latest work of the author, and one which in all respects speaks for itself. The life-labors of the apostle Paul are here drawn out with rare power. Very many points of deep interest not mentioned in the New Testament are given in this work. A careful reading will show that there are by actual count over seven hundred and fifty occurrences of this kind. This book is one of especial interest in the study of the Acts of the Apostles. It is to that book what an atlas is to a geography. Ministers of the gospel, Bible students, Sabbath-school teachers, scholars, and workers, should have this book. While the well-known work of Conybeare and Howson completely outstrips all its predecessors as a full and reliable history of the life and epistles of Paul, even that excellent book comes altogether short of taking the place of this humble volume. It is divided up into thirty-two convenient chapters, and so far as Seventh-day Adventists are concerned, will be an end of all controversy in reference to many theological difficulties which have perplexed the church for ages. Printed on nicotiated paper, good-sized type, muslin binding, with gilt front and back stamp. Price, post-paid, 50 cents. SEND AT ONCE FOR A COPY. Address,

THE NEW STEEL-PLATE

CHRIST THE WA

Paradise Lost to Para

Drawn by Thos. M Engraved and Printed by

The publishers take pleasure in announcing that this engraving is now ready for delivery.

The design of this engraving is to present events in the history of man as related to the time, from the time of the first sin and the of the race to the Paradise of God.

Its central figure is that of Christ hanging taking our position at the foot of the cross, history of man, and trace the steps which Calvary. The scenes which suggest the enacted in the shadow of the cross, which tory of the race, reaching even to the gates.

In the middle distance of the picture, at temples and the relics of heathenism, show ligions before the true, which is yet to tri error, and bear sway over all the universe.

At the right of the cross the scenes chan: have the Memorials of the Gospel, Bapti while in the distance appears Paradise Res: abiding in the light of heavenly glory.
