

CHOCOLATE

use of, in home of EGWhite

D.E. Robinson writes, "For a number of years I was a member of Mrs. White's family, and I can testify that chocolate was sometimes served at her table. . . .

"My wife is a granddaughter of Sister White and she says she has never heard her grandmother question the occasional use of chocolate."

CHOCOLATE, EGW REFERENCE TO

Mrs. White went in a sailboat on San Francisco Bay. She took dinner aboard. Brother Chittendon cooked dried corn and fish and made chocolate. EGW reported a very pleasant time.
